Did you know?

Los Rios CCD is the 2nd largest community college district in the State.

TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT

Dear New Employee,

On behalf of the Los Rios Community College District, welcome and congratulations! We are excited that you are ready to begin your journey at Los Rios.

Whether you are new to the District or were previously a Los Rios employee, this handbook will provide you a broad overview of the support systems in place to help you hit the ground running.

I applaud your decision to work in higher education. Our students will benefit greatly, and I personally wish you the very best in the pursuit of a most rewarding career with the Los Rios Community College District.

Sincerely,

Dr. Victoria C. Rosario, Ed.D.

District Director, Human Resources & Support Programs

Our District

About

The Los Rios Community College District (LRCCD) is the second largest, two-year public college district in California. We serve approximately 71,000 students in the greater Sacramento region. The District's 2,400 square mile service area includes Sacramento and El Dorado counties and parts of Yolo, Placer, and Solano counties, and is comprised of four uniquely diverse colleges – American River (ARC), Cosumnes River, (CRC) Folsom Lake (FLC) and Sacramento City (SCC) colleges. In addition to each college's main campus, the District offers educational centers in Placerville, Davis, West Sacramento, Elk Grove, Natomas and Rancho Cordova. Each college is notable in serving the students of their community in a unique way.

The District is centrally located in the heart of the Sacramento valley. The growing Capital Region has strong communities and emergent arts and dining scenes, and is nearby some of the most celebrated tourist destinations in the country – Lake Tahoe, Napa Valley, and San Francisco. The Sacramento area is a great place to live and work.

Strengths

This District has nearly 4,600 employees throughout our four colleges and district office in dozens of different departments. We work hard to provide a welcoming, inclusive, and equitable learning and work environment for students, employees, and community partners. Each and every District and college department strives for the highest quality in all programs, services, and activities, and is focused on improving educational outcomes for the students we serve.

Our Vision

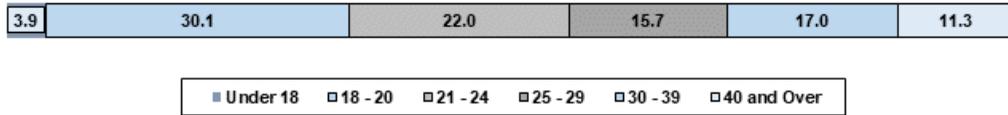

You will be helping to attain our vision to offer equity-minded, academically rigorous, student success-centered education. Our objective is to help our students successfully achieve their academic goals, whether they want to transfer to a four-year college or university, earn an associate degree, or obtain one of more than 100 certificates in high demand career fields.

The Los Rios Community College District is committed to diversity, equity, and to ensuring an inclusive, thriving environment for all of its employees, students, and surrounding communities. To that end, we are intentional in recruiting, hiring, and retaining diverse employees to reflect the diversity of our student populations. Welcome aboard!

Our Students

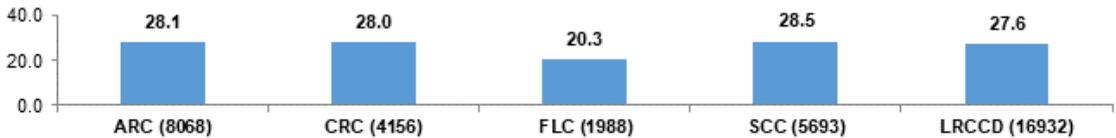

Age

The largest proportion of LRCCD enrollment by age is the 18-20 age group (30.1% of all students). The proportions of students 18-20 are higher at both CRC (38.1%) and FLC (39.5%). SCC enrollment by age generally reflects the district proportions.

1st Generation Status

Of all LRCCD students, 27.6% are the first in their family to attend college. The proportions of first generation students at each of the colleges generally reflect that of the district, however, FLC has a slightly lower proportion.

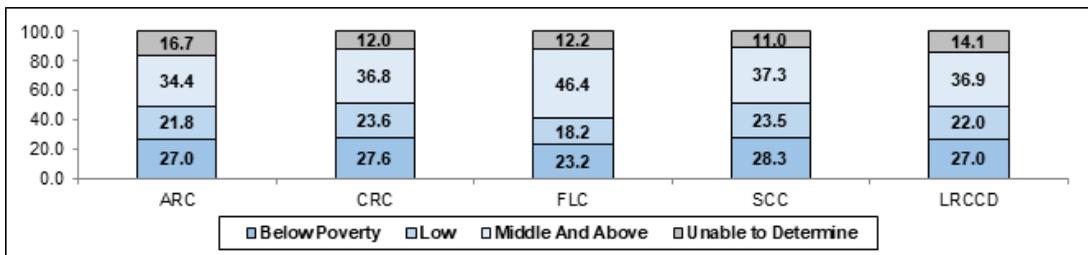

Race/Ethnicity

Los Rios colleges enroll higher proportions of Hispanic/Latino, Asian, and multi race students than the three county primary service area. African American enrollment generally reflects the service area population.

Socioeconomic Level

District-wide almost half, 49.0%, of all students report low or below poverty income levels. Proportions of students below poverty level are much higher among African American (37.7%) and Asian (37.6%) students than the overall district proportion.

Our Colleges

American River College

Serving the Sacramento area for more than 40 years, American River College is the largest of the District's four colleges. With a student enrollment of over 26,000, ARC is also among the largest community colleges in the state. Committed to equity and social justice through equity-minded education, the college has an outstanding record for academic quality and is among the top community colleges in the state in transferring students to the University of California and California State University systems. It also has a strong reputation for its career programs, which include nursing, hospitality management, gerontology, electronics, and paramedic, among others. ARC's off-campus centers include Mather, McClellan/Sacramento Public Safety Training Center, and Natomas.

Cosumnes River College

Cosumnes River College, founded in 1970, is committed to providing personal and holistic learning dedicated to student success and to meeting the needs of the growing south Sacramento community. The college offers a full transfer program, as well as many career programs including communications media, environmental technology, medical assisting, allied health, veterinary technology, food service production and control, and telecommunications. The college enrolls nearly 15,000 students at the main Sacramento campus and Elk Grove Center, and is rated top 10 in diversity among two-year colleges.

Folsom Lake College

Folsom Lake College received its initial accreditation in 2004 and is the newest college in the Los Rios District. FLC serves the fast growing Highway 50 and 80 corridors that include Orangevale, Folsom, Rancho Cordova, El Dorado Hills and Cameron Park. Folsom Lake College, nestled on a hill in Folsom, California, offers students award-winning architecture and state-of-the art educational facilities in a warm and friendly environment. The college serves approximately 9,700 students at the main Folsom campus, El Dorado Center, and Rancho Cordova Center.

Sacramento City College

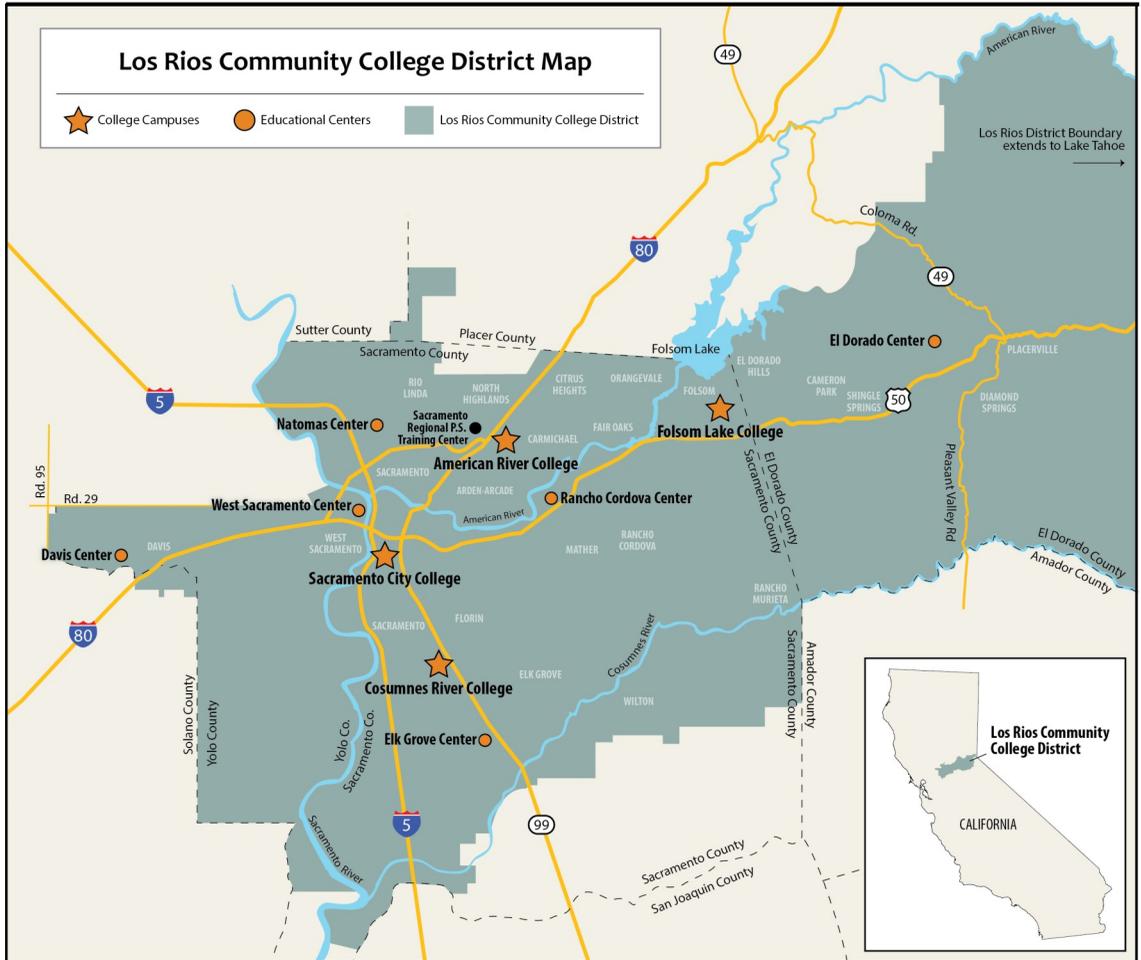

Since 1916, Sacramento City College has provided outstanding academic and vocational training. Located in the heart of Sacramento, SCC welcomes its students with mature trees and wisteria-covered walkways, giving the campus the look and feel of an eastern university. Among its many exemplary programs, the college is accredited for nursing, dental, physical and occupational therapy assistant programs, aviation, and recreational vehicle training. Performing and visual arts programs, including commercial music and studio recording, are also SCC hallmarks. Designated as an Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), this student-centered college enrolls nearly 21,000 students and highlights multicultural activities throughout the academic year. SCC operates outreach centers in Davis, downtown Sacramento, and West Sacramento.

District Offices

Office of the Vice Chancellor, Finance & Administration

The office of the Vice Chancellor, Finance & Administration is responsible for most financial and administrative activities of the District and has the responsibility for establishing and implementing sound business practices and procedures, which will maintain the financial stability of the District.

- Finance: District budget, accounting, student attendance accounting, grants and special programs, investments, contract management, payroll, employee/retiree benefits, internal audits, insurance and risk management, including environmental and certain safety programs, and the colleges' food services operations.
- Purchasing: Responsible for procurement. Visit their webpage for more information.
- Facilities: facility planning and maintenance activities, construction of facilities, remodel, renovation, and maintenance of all District properties. FM is responsible for planning, reviewing, and developing facility master plans, facility requirements for both new and existing space based upon identified program needs, and facility funding requirements.
- College police: works with risk management and FM regarding safety and security of District facilities.
- Collective bargaining: works with all the District employee units, particularly areas addressing, impacting, or requiring financial resources.
- Budget: planning, development, and implementation activities. The District budget uses formulas, workload measures, and other for determining staffing and operational funding levels. The District Budget Committee provides a review process and may develop recommendations regarding Districtwide budget processes.
- Financial Aid: provides coordination, technical assistance, and policy leadership for the four colleges with respect to locally administered federal, state and institutional financial aid programs.

Office of the Vice Chancellor, Education & Technology

This office is responsible for developing and coordinating the programs and services related to educational programs and technology for the District; and implementing policies and academic programs that promote student access, equity, and success. The VCET provides leadership for strategic planning, accreditation, serves as the District's Information Security Officer, and represents Los Rios leaders in the Capital Adult Education Regional Consortium.

- Human Resources: responsible for recruiting and hiring the best possible employees for the District and for providing professional development opportunities in skill areas employees will need to succeed or to promote. HR oversees the collective bargaining process with the District employee units and coordinates the District Staffing Plans; oversees and responds to unlawful discrimination complaints, the ADA Interactive Process, and employee relations issues. HR publishes the Equity Handbook for Hiring Process and the Hiring Manual for LRCCD Faculty.
- Institutional Research: provides leadership for District research activities, including producing annual Trend Line Reports and Fall Profiles with data on student enrollment, demographics, persistence, transfer, student success, and completions; student and employee surveys; External Environmental Scan Reports for strategic planning and accreditation reporting; and coordinating federal and state accountability and regulatory reporting requirements. District research efforts are coordinated with college research activities through the Districtwide Research Council.
- Instruction: provides leadership and coordination for districtwide instruction activities. Provides oversight of the Workforce and Economic Development Center, serves as resource to the District Curriculum Coordinating Committee and International Education Committee, and working with the colleges, corporate partners, economic development agencies, community leaders, the state Chancellor's Office, and District administration to advance services to regional business and industry partners to enhance the overall workforce and economic development efforts of the greater Sacramento region.
- Student services: ensures that all students have equal access to, and support in college courses needed to achieve their educational objectives. Provides advocacy and leadership to the college's student support services programs that facilitate and demonstrate the achievement of student learning outcomes. Builds upon the planning and work done by the individual colleges and provides a framework for all the colleges to work together.
- Technology: provides leadership for the development and coordination of technology to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the administrative and academic computing environment: telephony, distance education, the acquisition and maintenance of hardware and software, and District technology infrastructure.

Office of the Associate Vice Chancellor, Resource Development

This office is responsible for raising philanthropic resources to support students and the educational priorities of the District and its President of the Los Rios Foundation.

- Grants: secures grant revenue from corporations, foundations, and government sources. The office seeks to coordinate grant activity to ensure effective grant planning, consistent management practices, and efficient tracking of grant resources.
- The Los Rios Foundation: the private, non-profit public benefit corporation that serves as the fundraising arm of the Los Rios organization. Working in collaboration with the colleges, fundraising efforts focus on building the annual fund through employee, alumni, emeriti, and individual giving to benefit students, faculty, and staff. The Foundation also raises funds through major gifts, corporate and foundation giving, scholarship giving, planned giving, and endowments, and builds support for capital projects and special initiatives, such as the Capital Region Promise.

Office of the Associate Vice Chancellor, Media Relations

This office is responsible for the communication activities of the District and is a resource for the Board of Trustees and faculty and staff in the area of media relations and communications.

Coordinates the District's strategic communications, social media efforts, media relations, and marketing and advertising; also responsible for District publications and brochures and for internal communications. The office works closely with the communications and public information officers and the presidents of the four colleges and is a resource for faculty and staff in the area of media relations and communications.

Office of the General Counsel

The Office of the General Counsel operates as a full service law firm that represents only one client, Los Rios Community College District. The District, as a client, is embodied in the Board of Trustees and the Chancellor. In representing the District, the General Counsel represents the Board of Trustees, the District as an independent entity, and, where appropriate, individual District employees.

The office provides legal services to the District and all its constituent parts by advising the administration, faculty, and employees on matters having legal significance to the management and operation of the District. Few things are as detrimental to productivity and efficiency as dealing with a lawsuit. The General Counsel is a strong believer in preventative law, and taking steps to avoid litigation, liabilities, and other issues before they occur. If you have legal questions or are facing a legal situation, consult your supervisor, who will either clear your question through the relevant Vice President that is authorized to contact the General Counsel's office, or have you do it directly. This helps the VPs understand what recurring issues are present at the campus, and additionally, the VP may already have an answer for you. If it is an emergency (i.e. police officers with a search warrant), call the office of the General Counsel immediately, and then inform your VP. Issues identified early are often resolved quickly.

Whether it is a lawsuit, an unfair labor practice, or another type of administrative proceeding, the Office of the General Counsel will provide legal representation to the District. Almost all litigation is assigned to an outside law firm specializing in the subject area. If you are acting within the course and scope of your employment (i.e. doing your job) and acting in good faith, the District has the obligation to defend and indemnify you. That means the District will provide you with a lawyer and pay any judgment or settlement from the case. Often, the same lawyer that represents the District will represent you. If, on the other hand, you are acting outside the scope of your employment, or you are engaging in bad faith, fraud, or criminal misconduct, the District is not likely to represent you in the matter.

The office is responsible for drafting, revising, and updating District Policies and Regulations. Although the General Counsel takes the lead in this process, it is a collaborative effort involving affected employees at the Colleges and the District Office. The General Counsel is your link to state and federal legislatures; drafts and reviews contractual documents; helps employees at the District Office and Colleges negotiate favorable terms while minimizing risk to the District and ensures the contract terms are concise, clear, and legally appropriate; and is responsible for developing forms and contracts to speed the processing of routine transactions.

Most community college districts do not have an in-house general counsel. Consulting the Office of the General Counsel can help avoid adverse legal situations, allowing you to be more productive in your job. The District encourages you to take advantage of this source of legal advice, and raise potential legal issues early to prevent future liabilities.

Governance

Definition

Participatory governance is a collaborative goal-setting and problem-solving process built on trust and communication. The process involves representatives from appropriate constituent groups who engage in open discussion and timely decision-making in areas of District Policy development and implementation not specifically restricted by legal and policy parameters. (LRCCD Board Policy 3411)

Updating Policies and Regulations

District Policies and Regulations are periodically updated to clarify or change procedures as well as to stay in compliance with new or revised California and Federal law. The District reviews its Policies and Regulations regularly to ensure they are appropriately updated. Any of the constituencies of the District may propose changes to the Policies and Regulations. Proposed changes are reviewed by the General Counsel and then vetted through the District's participatory governance process. Quarterly, the Board of Trustees and other constituents are advised as to what Policies and Regulations are under review, are in the process of revision, or have recently been revised.

Typically, the General Counsel brings the proposed changes to the monthly meetings of the VPAs, VPIs and VPSSs for review, approval, and/or revision. Where Policies or Regulations affect matters within the purview of the Academic Senate and/or students, they are vetted with the Academic Senate and/or the Student Advisory Counsel. The next step of the process entails review by the Chancellor's executive staff. After approval by the Chancellor's executive staff, the Chancellor's Cabinet reviews the proposed new Policy or Regulation. Changes to a Regulation become effective once they are presented to the Cabinet, but changes to a Policy are reviewed by the Board of Trustees at a first reading and then approved at the Board's next meeting.

Policies and Regulations on issues that are reserved by law, Collective Bargaining, or agreement for negotiation, or that may be the responsibility of other groups, are not vetted through this process. Where immediate change to a Policy or Regulation is required, interim guidelines may be issued.

For a visual chart on the Policy and Regulation Review Process, click here.

Board of Trustees

The LRCCD Board of Trustees is responsible for setting policy for the District. The seven Board members are elected for four year terms by registered voters in geographical divisions. In accordance with the Education Code, the Board of Trustees also includes a non-voting student member as Student Trustee. The term of the Student Trustee is one (1) year. More information is available on the LRCCD Student Trustee page.

The Board generally meets on the second Wednesday of the month. All meetings begin at 5:30 p.m. Meeting locations are listed on the Board Meeting Calendar.

Board meetings begin with a call to order by the Board President.

The first items of business are correspondence, consent items, and public comment. A period for public comment on items not on the agenda will be called by the Board President. Speakers may contact the Clerk of the Board upon entering the Board Room to fill out a yellow speaker's card.

Once recognized by the Board President, guests approach the podium and state their name and address.

Board meetings are recorded for minute purposes.

Cabinet

Pursuant to provisions in the collective bargaining agreement with LRCFT, the Chancellor's Cabinet will function as the District's participatory governance group and may take up issues of District-level significance which are not reserved by law, contract or agreement for negotiation, or which may be the responsibility of other groups. The composition of the Chancellor's Cabinet is defined in the collective bargaining agreement and consists of faculty, classified staff, students, and administrators, including the Chancellor. (LRCCD Administrative Regulation 3411) Areas of responsibility:

- Review and provide recommendations to the Chancellor on proposed changes to District Policies and Administrative Regulations.
- Serve as the steering committee for District strategic planning processes.
- Review and provide recommendations to the Chancellor on District-related accreditation processes and documents.
- Discuss issues of District-level significance and interest to members.

Academic Senate

The Academic Senate is the legally recognized voice of the faculty in any college in all areas not covered by collective bargaining, and therefore the responsibility of LRCFT.

Each college has its own Academic Senate with an individual constitution and set of by laws. The Senate is the official representative body of the faculty in all areas of academic and professional matters as delineated in the California Education Code, Title V, Sections 53200 through 53206, and in the intent language of AB1725.

The Senates have the responsibility to insure that the work detailed in Title V and in agreements with the Los Rios Board of Trustees is completed. Most Senates have established various committees to carry out this work although not all committees have the same names or configurations across the District.

While the Academic Senate has the rights and responsibilities of this work, they believe in both the spirit and practice of Shared Governance. Shared Governance was part of the intent language of the 1988-89 legislation AB1725 which helped direct the structure realized in Title 5 for all the constituent groups: faculty, students, classified staff, and administrators. Shared Governance in Los Rios recognizes that all of the groups are present to support student success and together are stronger than any one constituent group acting alone. These ideas were recognized in the District's published Values and codified in District Regulation 3412.

Classified Senate

Classified staff comprise college classified senates. The Classified Senates support the leadership roles of classified staff in the governance of the District's colleges through their local senates, advocating increased involvement at the state and District level, and promoting leadership skills among classified staff.

LRCEA

The purpose of the Los Rios Classified Employees Association (LRCEA) is to advocate for and represent over 1,200 members, pursuant to the Educational Employment Relations Act. Any regular classified employee employed in a job classification in a bargaining unit exclusively represented by LRCEA, is eligible for membership. LRCEA negotiates with the district on behalf of unit employees over matters related to wages, fringe benefits, hours of work, and other terms and conditions of their employment. LRCEA may also represent individual members on matters such as grievances, evaluations, classification, and pay.

LRCFT

The Los Rios College Federation of Teachers (LRCFT) was founded in 1978 to represent Los Rios faculty. Since then, LRCFT has been a leader in the struggle for faculty labor rights in the Sacramento area and the education rights of all Californians.

Dedicated to the principles of opportunity, quality, and accountability, LRCFT acts on behalf of all Los Rios employees and students in the following ways:

- Supporting workplace rights for all faculty members
- Promoting academic freedom and full access to a quality education
- Ensuring fair pay and professional opportunities
- Building awareness of our members' skill, professionalism, and
- Dedication to the art of teaching.

LRCFT represents approximately 2,500 Los Rios faculty.

LRMA

The Los Rios Management Association (LRMA) is a meet and confer association for nearly 175 managers, confidential employees, and police captains. Members receive LRMA representation and direct colleague support through:

- LRCCD Leadership Series of professional development events
- Financial and Retirement Planning Workshops
- Membership on District Budget, Insurance Review Committees & Chancellor's Cabinet
- LRCCD initiatives
- Membership Networking

LRSA

The Los Rios Supervisors Association (LRSA) is a democratic organization which represents the Supervisors of the District. The purpose of LRSA, pursuant to the Educational Employment Relations Act commencing with Section 3540 of the Government Code (EERA), is to represent its members in employee-management relations in order to achieve mutually beneficial solutions on behalf of its members.

SEIU

Los Rios Service Employees International Union Local 1021 (SEIU) represents all employees in the Maintenance/Operations and College Police Officers Unit. SEIU represents their members during contract negotiations, and on workplace issues and union programs.

Governance Committees

The Board of Trustees supports a robust and representative committee system as an important participatory governance tool across the District. Normally, committee members are appointed to serve on District committees by their local and/or District senates. Members are appointed to serve on College committees, task forces, or other groups by the College senate Presidents in consultation with the College President.

The following curriculum and academic standards committees are faculty-led:

- District Curriculum Coordinating Committee
- District Matriculation and Student Success Committee

Non-senate-led District Committees consist of members representing different constituencies who make recommendations regarding District Policy or practice outside of academic and professional matters but which have areas of responsibility regarding one or more of the academic and professional matters:

- Academic Calendar Committee
- District Budget Committee
- Educational Technology Committee
- International Education Committee

Click here for more on Governance Committees.

Topics of Interest

Payroll Procedures

The District's payroll consists of two monthly productions: a) one for regular employees performing their assigned services; and b) one for temporary employees and overtime (or extra service) performed by regular employees.

Regular Payroll. Eligible payroll warrants for regular instructors, managers, and classified employees are generated based upon Human Resource's pay data information. Regular payroll is paid on the last working day of each month except for December (paid on the first business day in January).

Regular employees' pay data records are established through submission of regular employment documents. Employment of this nature requires Board approval and employee processing through the District Human Resources and Employee Benefits Departments.

Temporary (Variable) Payroll. The variable payroll consists of the Adjunct and Overload Certificated assignments, Certificated Substitutes, Professional Expert/Employment Service Agreements, Regular Classified Overtime and Differential, Student Employment, and College Work Study. The temporary (variable) payroll is paid by the 10th of each month.

Temporary employees' pay data records are established through submission of temporary employment documents. The variable payroll is computed based upon hours reported each month to Payroll via timesheets or entry on electronic worksheets and absence reports.

Some temporary employees, such as instructors, must be processed through Human Resources, but most temporary employees are processed solely at the college/location. However, employment documents for all types of temporaries must be on file in the Human Resources Department prior to the employee starting work to ensure payment in a timely manner.

Absence Reporting

Classified, supervisors, and management employees have “positive attendance reporting.” This means that every manager, both certificated and classified, and every regular classified employee, including probationary, permanent, long-term temporary and supervisor, must submit absence data each month in ESS if they are scheduled to work, regardless of whether they were absent from work or not. If an employee was not absent during a scheduled month of work, they are to enter “No absences” in ESS.

These transactions will be approved by the employee’s supervisor.

Each area supervisor/manager will be responsible for ensuring that an absence transaction is submitted each month for every classified employee in their area. Absence transactions for certificated managers, classified temps, and student employees are only submitted when absent. Click here for more information on absence reporting.

Safety & Risk Management

The District Office Risk Management website provides easy access to information about worker’s compensation, safety, insurance, transportation, emergency response procedures, and other risk issues. Links to additional information include a Transportation Handbook, Ergonomics, HAZCOM, Incidents & Injuries, West Nile Virus, Reporting Unsafe Conditions, and an anonymous reporting HOTLINE.

Gender Inclusive Work Environments

The District recognizes, celebrates, and values the gender diversity of all employees. The District aims to create an inclusive environment that understands gender identity and gender expression, and is committed to supporting transgender, gender non-conforming, and gender non-binary employees. One way to understand and support all gender identities is by using the names and pronouns that affirm individuals’ identities. Employees can now change their employee ID card to their affirmed/chosen name. Some helpful tips can be found on the charts that follow.

GENDER-SPECIFIC & GENDER-NEUTRAL PRONOUNS

GENDER-SPECIFIC PRONOUNS

are the ways we refer to each other in the third person. People who are transitioning in some way might choose to change their pronouns.

GENDER-NEUTRAL PRONOUNS

THEIR

I saw Lauren come to work today and they seemed really happy. I wonder if it has anything to do with their weekend. I hope I see them soon to hear all about it!

ZE (ZEE)
SIE (SEE)
ZIE (ZEE)
HIR (HEAR)

I saw Lauren come to work today and ze seemed really happy. I wonder if it has anything to do with hir weekend. I hope I see hir soon to hear all about it!

ASK

You cannot tell someone's name or pronoun just by looking at them.

RESPECT

If someone takes the time to let you know their name and pronoun, use and respect it. It's not up to you to decide someone else's identity.

PRACTICE

If you have difficulty using someone's pronoun and name, practice. Ask co-workers, peers, and friends to point out when you've made a mistake.

Hi everyone, my name is Lauren. My pronouns are she and her.

ASK! If you find yourself unsure of someone's pronoun, be attentive to how others refer to this person. If you are still unclear or concerned that people might be using the incorrect pronoun, politely and privately ask that person what pronoun they use.

All name tags and name plates can also have a spot to show someone's pronouns.

Start meetings with everyone introducing themselves and stating their pronoun.

Students and Employees with Disabilities

Students

The District and its colleges are committed to ensuring that all of our students, including those with disabilities, are able to participate in and enjoy the benefits, activities, programs, and services of the District and its colleges. For students with disabilities, the colleges are committed to providing the appropriate academic adjustments that do not affect the fundamental nature of the educational programs through our DSPS Offices.

Any student with a disability who needs a Service Animal to participate in and benefit from services, programs, and activities may use the service animal on District/College property.

Faculty may need to accommodate students' disabilities in the classroom. Students with disabilities should engage the services of the college DSPS Office. Click here for contact information.

Employees

The District and its Colleges are also dedicated to ensuring that all employees can perform the essential functions of their jobs. The District and its Colleges are committed to their obligations under the Fair Employment and Housing Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act to engage in the interactive process with qualified persons with disabilities to determine if the employee can perform the essential functions of their job with or without reasonable accommodations. From that dialog, the District and its Colleges seek to find reasonable accommodations for employees.

Any employee with a disability who needs a Service Animal to participate in and benefit from services, programs, and activities may use the service animal on District/College property. Employees with disabilities should contact their ADA/504 Officers For more information or optional registration forms for service animals. Click here for college ADA/504 Officers' contact information.

Unlawful Discrimination and Harassment, Sexual Harassment, and Retaliation

Overview

It is the policy of the District and its colleges to eliminate all forms of unlawful discrimination and harassment, including sexual harassment. The District and its colleges will investigate all reports of misconduct and will not tolerate retaliation for reports of misconduct.

Click here for the District's Policies and Regulations on unlawful discrimination and harassment.

Unlawful Discrimination and Harassment

District Policy guarantees that no qualified employee, student, or prospective student, or any person having an educational relationship with the District shall be unlawfully discriminated against, harassed, or excluded from any benefits, activities, or programs on the grounds of one or more of the following actual or perceived characteristics, or due to the association with a person or group with one or more of the following actual or perceived characteristics: ethnic group identification, race, color, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy or childbirth-related condition, sexual orientation, sexual identity, religion or religious creed, age (over forty), national origin, ancestry, physical or mental disability, medical condition, political affiliation or belief, military and veteran status, or marital status. Those who feel they have experienced or witnessed unlawful discrimination, harassment, or retaliation should report it to the District or college Equity Officers (contact information).

Sexual Harassment, Sexual Violence, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking

Sexual harassment is a form of unlawful discrimination based on sex and is prohibited by state and federal law, including Title IX, as well as the District's Policies. Sexual harassment is generally defined to include unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, visual, or physical conduct of a sexual nature, made by someone in the work or educational setting. These acts constitute sexual harassment when: (1) submission to such conduct is made a term or condition of employment or education, (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as a basis for employment or educational decisions affecting the individual, or (3) such conduct unreasonably interferes with an employee's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or educational environment.

Sexual assault is a form of unlawful discrimination based on sex. Sexual assault includes physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent due to the victim's use of drugs or alcohol, or their mental capacity. Sexual assault also includes domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or threat of sexual assault.

Any individual who believes that they have been subject to sexual discrimination, sexual harassment, or sexual assault is encouraged to follow the complaint procedures as set forth in the LRCCD Discrimination Complaint Procedure (R-2423). They should report the conduct to the College Equity Officer and/or Title IX Officer. Persons who would like completely confidential assistance may contact the WEAVE Confidential Advocate (WEAVE@losrios.edu or (916) 568-3011). A report to the WEAVE Confidential Advocate is not a report to the College, and the College will take no further action on those reports unless they are reported to the Equity Officer, the Title IX Officer, or the Police. All employees (managers, faculty and staff) are required to report all incidents of unlawful sexual discrimination, sexual harassment, or sexual violence to the Title IX Officer responsible for the District/College location at which the conduct has occurred or has an effect.

Ban on Certain Consensual Relationships with Students

A “consensual relationship” is defined as one in which two individuals are involved by mutual consent in a romantic, physically intimate, and/or sexual relationship. This definition includes domestic partners and spouses. A consensual relationship that might be appropriate in other circumstances is prohibited when a District/College employee has responsibility for supervising, directing, overseeing, evaluating, advising, or influencing the employment or educational status of a student. KEY POINTS AT A GLANCE

Sexual Assault: Sexual Violence, Relationship Violence & Stalking

What I Can Do After A Sexual Assault, Relationship Violence or Stalking

- If you fear for your safety, call 911.
- Get to a safe place.
- Call a friend or family member to be with you.
- Breathe deeply and remind yourself that what has happened is wrong and in no way your fault.
- Get help:
 - » If you want to report the crime to the Police, call the LRPD at (916) 558-2221, 911 or your local police department.
 - » If you want to report the crime to the college, contact your college’s Title IX Officer. Contacts: losrios.edu/titleix.
 - » If you want confidential help and do not want to report the crime, contact the WEAVE Confidential Advocate at WEAVE@losrios.edu or (916) 568-3011.
- You can also contact WEAVE’s 24/7 Support and Information Line at (916) 920-2952 to talk through your options and obtain support, accompaniment and resources.
- Write down as much as you can remember about the assault and your assailant.
- Receive medical attention or an evidentiary exam as soon as possible.

How to Report Sexual Assault, Relationship Violence or Stalking

Each of the four Los Rios Colleges—American River, Cosumnes River, Folsom Lake and Sacramento City—has procedures in place to support those who report sexual assault (which includes sexual violence, relationship violence or stalking). The reporting party may make these reports to the LRPD and the college’s Title IX Officers. All other college employees—including faculty, staff or administrators—who receive reports of sexual assault are required to notify the college’s Title IX Officer of the report. The college procedures include informing a reporting party about his/her right to file criminal charges as well as written notification about resources such as counseling, health, mental health, advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, and other services on and/or off campus.

The reporting party may ask for confidential help from the WEAVE Confidential Advocate. The WEAVE Confidential Advocate will assist the reporting party with information, referrals to medical and counseling resources, and provide assistance as appropriate. The WEAVE Confidential Advocate is not an employee of Los Rios. Reports to the WEAVE Confidential Advocate are not official reports to the college. No further college or police action will occur unless the reporting party files a formal complaint.

If you are assaulted and you happen to be violating a college policy or a criminal statute (such as drinking alcohol on campus), do not let it stop you from reporting the assault. The college will not discipline a person who reports sexual assault, unless your violation was extreme.

Confidentiality

Reporting parties and third parties may make confidential reports to the WEAVE Confidential Advocate.

The WEAVE Confidential Advocate will keep the report confidential unless they are required to disclose it by law. Disclosure is required if the reporting party is a minor or the conduct occurred while he or she was a minor or if a court requires the WEAVE Confidential Advocate to testify.

The WEAVE Confidential Advocate will report anonymous data about the report to the college in a way that keeps names and other personal information of the reporting party confidential.

When a report of sexual assault is made to the LRPD or Title IX Officer that implicates the college's obligations to provide a safe and sexual harassment-free environment for its students, faculty, staff and administrators, the college may not be able to honor a request for confidentiality. A confidentiality request will be weighed against the following factors: the seriousness of the alleged misconduct; whether the reporting party is younger than 18; whether there have been other complaints about the same responding party; and the responding party's rights to receive information about the allegations that is maintained by the college. The college shall conduct an investigation of a report of sexual assault to the LRPD or the Title IX Officer, even if there is a request to not do so, if: (1) the person alleged to have committed the crime is alleged to have committed one or more prior acts of sexual assault or used a weapon in those act(s); or (2) acts of sexual assault have occurred repeatedly in a particular location or against a particular group.

Legal Rights

A person reporting sexual assault (reporting party) has rights, including the right to:

- Be informed of and to be present at court proceedings of the responding party.
- Be heard at sentencing of the responding party in the manner prescribed by law, and at other times as prescribed by law or deemed appropriate by the court.
- Receive restitution.
- Receive information about the crime, how the criminal justice system works, the rights of victims and the availability of services for victims.
- Receive information about the conviction or final judgment.
- Have an advisor accompany them to medical, criminal, civil and college proceedings.

A person accused of sexual assault (responding party) has rights, including the right to:

- Be informed of the charges and to be present at court proceedings and college proceedings.
- Retain an attorney of their choice to represent them in criminal and civil proceedings.
- Have an attorney paid for in criminal proceedings if they cannot afford one.
- Remain silent and not testify.
- Have an advisor accompany them to college proceedings.

College Response

Independent of the LRPD obligation to investigate crimes, the college has an obligation to ensure it fairly investigates official reports of sexual assault reported to college Title IX Officers. Other employees (including faculty, staff or administrators) who receive these reports must report them to the college's Title IX Officer. In response to these reports, the college will:

- Assist the reporting party in contacting LRPD or local police if the reporting party requests it.
- Discuss confidentiality with the reporting party.
- Assess the need to implement interim or long-term protective measures, such as changes in class schedule or a "No Contact" directive between the parties, if deemed appropriate.
- Fairly investigate what happened, halt any misconduct found and address the effects of that misconduct.

Professional Development

Districtwide

Opportunities abound for professional development at Los Rios.

The District Office Human Resources Department Training & Professional Development web pages list districtwide training opportunities for all employee groups. Here you will find information and dates for the New Faculty Welcome Events, Faculty Diversity Internship Program (FDIP), the Classified Leadership Academy (CLA), and Interest Based Approach (IBA) Trainings. Trainings hosted by Los Rios Management Association (LRMA), Los Rios Supervisors Association (LRSA), and Liebert Cassidy Whitmore (LCW) on topics of interest to managers, supervisors, and confidential employees are also listed here. Bookmark the Training and Development Workshops page to find monthly offerings for all employees related to skills-based trainings, work-life balance, mental health, and physical/financial wellness.

Hiring Committee and Equity Representative Trainings, Sexual Harassment Prevention trainings, and online trainings hosted by our training vendor Keenan Safe Colleges can be found under Compliance and Safety Training.

College-Specific

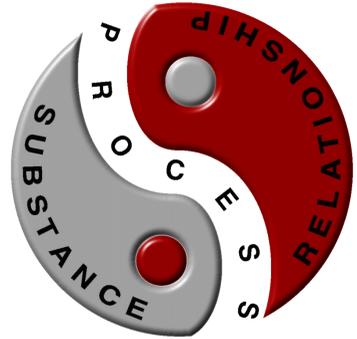

Each college professional development center offers a training calendar of workshops and activities for FLEX week (special days in the academic calendar provided for professional development activities) and throughout the semester, including academies, institutes, and online offerings. The center websites offer instructions for reporting your FLEX activities and for requesting professional development funding.

Feel free to take advantage of faculty professional development opportunities at your own college as well as at the other three colleges in the District.

IBA: The Interest Based Approach

Los Rios Community College District promotes the interest-based approach as the preferred way to do business in the District. When the approach was adopted in 1993, it followed a small collective bargaining miracle. The entire 100+ page Los Rios College Federation of Teachers (LRCFT) and LRCCD collective bargaining agreement was renegotiated along with the first “golden handshake” program in a decade with a new assignment preference system for adjunct faculty—all in three days of negotiating. This minor miracle was made possible by the two bargaining teams having the courage to try something new: an interest-based approach.

After the first successful bargaining effort, representatives from the Los Rios Management Association (LRMA), LRCFT, and the Los Rios Supervisors Association (LRSA) agreed that the interest-based approach was too valuable to be limited to collective bargaining. From this desire to share the approach, the IBA Steering Committee was born. The committee developed the training curriculum that is used to train all Los Rios employees in the interest-based approach, and this curriculum is continually updated to achieve maximum impact.

The Interest Based Attitude

- Putting relationships first
- Being trustworthy
- Seeking first to understand, then to be understood
- Respecting individuals
- Sharing information

Annual IBA Trainings

In response to the ongoing COVID-19 public health crisis, Los Rios and our colleges have moved to remote operations. All IBA trainings have been temporarily suspended at this time.

The Classified Leadership Academy

The Classified Leadership Academy \(CLA\) is a dynamic training and professional development program for Los Rios permanent, classified employees who have completed at least one year of regular service. The purpose of CLA is to develop the skills and abilities of classified employees who have leadership and advancement potential. Participants gain essential core knowledge for leadership, practical tools for improving performance in the workplace, and opportunities for networking.

The participant cohort attends regularly scheduled sessions which include instruction, self-assessments, individual & group exercises, hands-on activities, presentations, and video. Presenters include experts from across the District, many of whom were previous CLA participants themselves. Participants commit to a one-year training program attending all sessions in order to receive the final CLA Certificate of Successful Completion (one missed session is allowed for unforeseen circumstances).

What are Employee Resource Groups?

Employee resource groups (ERGs) – also called employee network or affinity groups – are informal, self-started employee groups for people with common interests and issues. They exist not only to benefit their group members, but also to support Los Rios' efforts to attract and retain diverse employees, fostering excellence, inclusion, and equity.

These groups celebrate, validate, and respect the individuals of our organization. They are open to all employees and typically have a structure of campus leaders as well as periodic meetings and/or socials. They may also serve in an advisory capacity, as needed.

Our resource groups include employees who self-identify as:

- BFSA, African American/Black/African
- API Legacy, Asian American/Pacific Islander/South Asian/Southeast Asian
- Comunidad, Latinx/Chicanx
- Spectrum, LGBTQIA+ \(or lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, questioning, non-binary\)
- NAC, Native American/Indigenous/First Nation
